ADVANCED VACCINOLOGY COURSE IN AFRICA – ‘Afro-ADVAC’

ANNOUNCEMENT

DATE?  19th to 28th September 2016

VENUE?  Glenburn lodge, Muldersdrift, Gauteng, South Africa
          (<45 minutes from Johannesburg)

WHO SHOULD APPLY?  Medical and allied medical practitioners and scientists (minimum MSc) working in the field of vaccinology (e.g. paediatricians, physicians, obstetricians, microbiologists, virologists, research physicians, public health practitioners, epidemiologists, immunologists, immunization managers)

Applicants should have been working in vaccine/ immunisation field for a minimum of 5 years with evidence of research or policy outputs.

Full scholarships covering airfare, registration and accommodation are available for participants from academic institutions, non-governmental organisations and Ministries of Health.

Opens 5th May 2016, Closes 15th June 2016 at www.indvac.org (Course hosted in association with INDVAC)

Applicants will be notified of outcome of application by 30th June 2016.

Supported by educational grants from:

The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and an unrestricted educational grant from Sanofi Pasteur to the National Institute for Communicable Diseases.

Contact us on: afro.advac@rmpru.co.za

Website:  www.indvac.org